

Springtime is here!

The month of March has been very busy behind the scenes, and the active season is now fast approaching. I am very optimistic about this month and the coming summer, and I am growing especially excited about seeing the museum beginning to bustle with people again.

Thank you again for your interest and support. Feel free to contact me with questions or feedback, or if you want a tour of the house.

Have a happy April, enjoy the warm weather, and I look forward to seeing some of you at the museum!

Sincerely,

Alison Nelson

Administrator/Curator

Thank you so much to all of you who completed last month's survey to help decide what products to order. After all, you are more than just customers, you're part of our community. Your purchases and contributions support museum activities and repairs, enabling local history to grow and thrive.

New Staff News

While working at the museum last summer, Cathy Taylor demonstrated both skill and passion for her work. She is now wrapping up her Business Administration program, and I could not be more pleased to announce that she will be joining the Steeves House Museum in May for her professional internship.

Student Summer Jobs

Before even hearing back about student grants, I am receiving applications from students. Some have worked at the Steeves House before, but there are also many new names. If you know any students who would be interested, encourage them to apply! I am inspired when I see a lot of young people showing the same interest in and passion for local history that so brought me to the museum. It is the reason we do what we do, and it is also how our community thrives.
